

QUALITY ASSURENCE

Keeping quality as our forte, we strive to design and develop products that are synonymous with the international standards of quality. We have a team that ensures that the set standards are being maintained in each and every stages of production.

Our manufacturing unit has quality control unit that has all equipments to test machineries and raw materials before being used for the manufacturing processes. Quality control is maintained since the first step of production process that is the procurement of the raw materials. These raw materials are tested in the labs for their performance and then forwarded for production processes.

The machineries and equipments used in the production are also regularly oiled and inspected by engineers. Once the end product is ready, they are again subject to a stringent quality testing. Only after the products are minutely tested, they are ready for dispatch.

Our motto is to deliver the globally accepted products.
